Dear Friends,

In Vlorë, Albania, JR, Charlie, a retired engineer from Atlanta, myself and our new Albania staff friend Avni talked to 9 Albanian students about where we come from, what happens when we die and what our purpose is here.

The students, practicing their English and asking Avni for help in translating were EXTREMELY open with us. We heard so many answers but one sweet girl said that she thought we returned to dust when we die. The next evening, this young girl prayed to receive Christ.

free time and meals we would try to talk with Albanian students.

There were 43 students and every student heard the Gospel. Albanian students were open to listening to us talk about Jesus, asked us questions, taught JR and I Albanian folk dancing and in general befriended us. Our goal was to impact the students for Christ, but they impacted us as we watched their love for their own country, their open acceptance of us, and for many their inquisitive nature as we discussed Jesus.

Thank you so much, as we partner together to share Jesus!

Ingrid for the whole Peck family

Prayer Requests:

- Our girls had a great experience and missionary kid camp! Thank you for praying!
- Please for the students in Albania that heard the Gospel. Pray those that believed will grow in their faith. Pray those that have not decided to follow Christ yet, will continue to think on the things we discussed.
- JR is trying to finish up a project for student ministry in the Ukraine. Please pray the Lord helps him finish.
- JR is in charge of a conference in September. Please pray the logistics come together and it is a helpful tech conf.

Charlie is in the back on the left and Avni on the far right. And all our wonderful students.

SpeakOut Albania is an English camp that our whole family participated in for one week. An American team came over to help. Charlie was our partner in teaching English and sharing Christ. Charlie's endeared father had passed away 3 weeks prior to the short term mission trip but he still came. At the camp, we taught English in the morning, had free time in the afternoon, taught Bible lessons in the evening, and participated in American night, Albanian night, movie night, girls/guys night, and a special programs in the evening. During Dori came to learn English and learned a lot about God's love for him in the process.
