Digital Ministry Continues to Grow

Dear Friends,

Not long ago, I sat with my friends Roland and Beni, talking about launching an evangelistic website for Hungary. Beni already had a lot of experience doing this in Romania and I knew his experience would be key in helping Roland do the same for Hungary.

The Hungarian ministry was trying things out, with Roland working part time on developing a digital strategy.

Roland and his family.

It went well and last year Roland was moved to working with digital full time. In 2014 EveryStudent.hu had 650,000 unique visitors, 32,000 of them indicated decisions for Christ and 1,900 of them signed up for follow-up emails.

The numbers can be a little overwhelming. One of those numbers was Balázs. Balázs came to EveryStudent.hu via an ad. He started to interact with volunteers through email, asking questions about God and Christianity.

This led to him attending some events, meeting one of the volunteers that was answering his questions and ultimately coming to faith in Christ. Now Balázs is on the other side of the equation. He is one of the volunteers answering emails from other Hungarians who have questions about a relationship with Christ.

Balázs works in the tech industry. He and I had a great time swapping job stories at a conference about digital ministry in Amsterdam, where we first met in person. It is really exciting to see God at work this way and we thank you for being a part of it with us.

In Him,

JR, Ingrid and the kids

Prayer Requests:

- Please continue to pray for the people of Ukraine. As the fighting spreads conditions are getting worse for many.
- Pray for a member of JR's team Curt. Curt has been through surgery and radiation for prostate cancer but it has come back. Please pray for healing.
- We praise God that February 22nd, Eddie was baptised at our church in Budapest. Thank you for praying for our kids.

If you would like to hear more of Balázs's story, in his own words, watch his video at our web site or our Facebook page.
